THE progressive tendencies of the Chinese residents in Hongkong have received a sudden check. A scheme had been devised, and apparently carried into something more than the initial stage, by Chinese capitalists here and in Canton for the connection of the City of Rams with Kowloon by the telegraphic wire, and every preparation made for the construction of the line-the proposed ronte:for which was surveyed some months loop dock yesterday, and her place there was ago-when the crushing rows arrived taken by the British steamer Japan. from Peking that the Tsung-li Yamen would not sanction the undertaking, all idea of which must henceforth be abandoned. In the case of Captain Fonwick, charged at San Francisco with overcrowding the Strathair. In, and for which he was fined $11,150, testimonly was on the 5th July taken before Judge Hoffman. The captain was placed on the stand, and testified that on the morning of the day the 'vessel sailed from Hongkong the passengers were pounted by the Emigration Officer and Dr. Adams of Hougkong, and the number found to be 816; he shortly after went on shore, where be remained four hours, and he had no know. ledge of any increase in the number. second officer testified that while the captain was on shore, and he (the mate) was taking his dinner, he was informed that Chinamen with luggage were coming on hoard; on inquiry, he was told by the charterer, Po l'ai, that they were only bringing the luggage on board for the passengers; upon evincing doubt, the charterer then the vessel carried 1,056, when she should only savry 730, or 758. by allowing for the houses washed overboard. Judge Hoffman expressed the opinion that the vessel should betreated as having brought xlw. The testimony was finally ordered to be submitted to the Court, when such modifications and corrections as he may deem proper will be made, after which it will be sent to the U. S. Treasurer, where it is likely the captain will apply for pardon or reduction of fine.

A Washington dispatch in the Alla California dated July 6th, says-" The Navy officers here are discussing with much interest the recall of Commodore Shufeldt from China, where for over a year past he has been in the employ of the Chinese Government, superintending the conatraction of the Chinese Navy. It is generally agreed that Sputeldt's recall is due to the fact that the Chinese Government became aware that he had written a very severe latter to Mr. Sargent, when that gentleman was a Senator, against the Chinese, and among other things, had impugned the chastity of the Empress of China. His recall is reported here to be due to representations made by the Chinese Legation in Washington to the Home Government. At the Navy Department another story is told. Scoretery Chandler said to-day that Commodore Shufeldt a few days ago tolegraphed to the Navy Department that he had completed his mission to China, and asked to be placed in command of the Asiatic squadron. Naval officers generally express themselves as displeased with Commodore Shufeldt's course while in China. As the diplomatic mission is completed, no other officer will be detailed on that duty. Chandler said that as Commodore Shufeldt had accepted a diplomatic formian papers .trust only temporarily, he would not forfeit his position in the naval service." The New York Times, in an editorial, says : "It is semi-officially stated that the recall of Commodore Shufeldt from the Asiatic squadron, and from duty in China with the United States Legation, is due to his so-called 'open letter' to Senator Sar-This letter was a caustic, plainly worded and brutally frank review of the relations of China to foreign nations. has the following concerning Captain Roper and A report was published yesterday by a con-temporary that Captain A. Roper of the Anjer Hend had sold his ship for a large sum of money. and that his Chinese charterers had failed, by which failure Captain Roper had lost some thousands of dollars. A visit to William T. Coleman & Co. showed a reporter that the statement was without foundation in fact.

As the days roll along, Captain Roper finds himself entangled deeper and deeper in the meshes of Yankoe law and technicalities, and troubles daily spring up, until the British mariner heartily wishes he were far out upon B itannia's ocean wave, where American customs officials cease from troubling and the weary are at rest. Yesterday morning about 400 Chinese boarded his vessel, lying at the seawall, and took up quarters for passage to Honolelu, for which port the Anjer Hendis destined assoon asshegets Indo China Steam Navigation Co.'s Shares-On Petroleum in liher clearance papers. To this action the Captain demurred and ordered them to leave the vessel, which they did in a very short while. Consul Bee, ever faithful guardian of his chosen people, filed a most decided protest against this "outrageous proceeding," and there and then met his fee on the quarter-deck and-was vanquished for the nonce.

BEARDING THE LION. At about 8 o'clock last evening a Chronicle reporter entered the cabin of the Anjer Head. There sat Captain Roper, resting his weary head in the palms of his hands, and buried in thought On his left stood a pint of milk, in front of him Hongkong and China Bakery Company, Limited a box of eigarettes. "Captain, I fear that you are in more trouble," volunteered the reporter. "I refuse to talk. You newspaper men have draged me through the mud long enough. I am tired." The bristly mustache threw out its baits like percupine quilis. I am going to keep my own counsel." This last remark was emphasized by a stroke of the fist on the table. "Your ship was seized this morning in the name of this great nation." "It was. I have given strict orders not to have any more bonds issued for me. I am sorry I ever gave bonds for anything. I have done. I wish I had gone to jail. Ah! you people are so worked up by this blarsted Chinese question you know, you hound a man to death. An! but I know the Chinese better than you do. I like

"When do you expect to leave this port ?" "Not, sir"-his fist came down again-"not, sir, until I have fought my cases in tho Courts, and if I cannot gat justice here I can get it in Washington." A SCENE WITH CONSUL BEE.

"You had some trouble with Consul Bee this morning, did you not?" "Yes, young man. He tried to send on board 400 Chinese, first asking me if I wouldn't let them come and stay until I sailed for Honolulu as Chinatown is so crowded they had no place to stay. He sent them down. But do you think I'm going to take that gang on board this ship : have the smallpox break out smong them; and get quarantined for fifty five days, like the Altenower? No. sir. Well, he got into a blind race at this, declared that they had a right to some on board as they had engaged their passage for Honolulu, and that I had to take them. I refused. Now he swears he's going to sue me. All right, says I to him . go and do it, Colonel. I'm a drenched man, and a few more buckets of water sin't not going to hurt me. But, sir," continued the Captain, "not one of those Chinese are going to come on board this vessel until they show me tickets for Honolulu signed by William T. Coleman & Co."

A TABOORD KINGDOM.

"Why is Colonel Bes going to cause you Liet me toll you. He claims that these Chinese have engaged passage from Hongkong to Honolulu. That is false, for the laws of England and Chine are strict against any Hoglish vessel carrying immigrants into the Hawaiian Islands, because both these nations believe that slavery exists there. I am now under bonds of 21,000 to the English Government for each passenger that I carry, and if I should take one of them into those Islands direct from any port in China or England, my vessel would be confiscated and sold, and my immense bonds forfeited No vessel is ever cleared for those Islands from Chins. So you see I could only agree to bring them to this port and now, when I am ready to sale for Honolulu, I will take those Chinese, but each and every one of them pust have a ticket from William T. Coleman & Co.," and the fist came down once more as emphasis upon the last remark. "How long do you expect to remain in this city, Captain ?" Until I have fought my cases to the bitter and and notil I get justice. That will take about a month. They take me for a piece of cheese, and so let them all take a nip at me, Colonel Bee and the rest, I am callous. The British Government and the authorities at Washington will see me righted by the aid of God and Hall Mo Allister," and the Captain said good-bye.
